Contents

Kellam is composed of many different groups — the student body, the administration, the faculty, the sports teams, and the clubs. No one segment can function well without the co-operation of its members, and no member can function well without the co-operation of the group. Individuals compose the groups, and the groups compose Floyd E. Kellam High School.

Student Life

Groups of students in various organizations such as the Student Cooperative Association, National Honor Society, Junior Civitan, Key Club, Keyettes, and Pep Club work together to sponsor and promote the events that represent Student Life at Kellam. Because of these students' combined efforts and talents, the events gain special meanings — accomplishment and pride.

All dreams were not fulfilled on the afternoon of Kellam's seventh annual Homecoming. Schedualed for the evening of October 29th the game was reschedualed for the 30th because of what seemed to be unending rains. The muddy battle between the Knights and the Granby Comets was disheartening since Kellam had its first Homecoming loss.

Half-time activities were begun with musical performances by the band and drill team accenting the theme of "Children's Dreams, Toyland U.S.A." Though spirits were dampened the previous day, the rays of sun showed through as Gail Heywood was crowned 1971 Homecoming Queen by Principal, Jefferson Davis. The crown was relinquished by 1970's Queen Cathy Coppino. Arching of the Swords by the N.J.R.O.T.C. units added glamor to the festivities. First prize of twenty-five dollars was awarded to the Keyette Club for their float bearing the title of "Children's Dreams Make the World Go Around." Second and third places went to the Pep Club float and the Choral Department float respectively.

The evening was concluded with the Homecoming dance; the music was provided by the American Renaissance.

Principal Jefferson Davis crowned Gail Heywood 1971 Homecoming Queen as 1970's Queen Cathy Coppino gave her congratulations.

Heywood Reigns Over Court

A proper homecoming court is composed of the queen, the four senior attendants, and one representative from each of the four underclasses.

Gail Heywood, Homecoming Queen

Each year the Drama Department, the Drama Club, and the International Thespians combine their talents to present the students with interesting and varied play performances.

The Glass Menagerie, by Tennessee Williams, began the drama production's year on December 10 and 11. An extremely shy young woman, who is slightly crippled, allows her physical defect to draw her into a fantasy world revolving around a menagerie of glass animals. The main characters were portrayed by Mary Craig, Michelle Hickey, and Donald Workman.

A Token of Our Esteem, by Donald R. Stieper, was presented on March 17 by the Seniors as their class play. The play was a comedy focusing on a family whose younger members feel their jobs in the family firm are demeaning so they plot to kill their cousin who is the company president. Portrayals of the main characters were by Dirk Newcome, Mary Craig, Mark Grubble, Karen Snell, and David Smith.

Home Free, by Lanford Wilson, received a superior rating when presented by Kellam students at the Eastern District One-Act Play Festival on March 15. The two main characters were played by Michelle Hickey, and Tommy Hitt who represented a brother and sister deathly afraid of the outside world of imaginary forces that will destroy them. Because the presentation received a superior rating it went on to the State Festival in Charlottesville.

Lilly the Felon's Daughter, by Tom Taggart, was the spring play which is an 1890 melodrama.

Drama Director, Miss Rhett Pridgen devoted many hours of work to the guidance of drama students in the production of the following plays.

Donald Workman and Mary Craig rehearse their parts as the gentleman caller and Laura in "The Glass Menagerie."

"Color My World" — Theme For Annual Ring Danc

Junior worlds were colored with gaiety and excitement on the evening of January 29 when they attended their long awaited ring dance. The event was held earlier than usual this year because ring sales were begun in the spring of last year.

White Sands Country Club accomodated the juniors while Emily enchanted them with song.

Presentation of the rings was handled by Richard O'Brien, class president, and Donna Pugh, treasurer. In attendence was Kellam's principal, Mr. Jefferson Davis, junior class sponsor, Mrs. Anne Bright, and several members of the faculty.

Richard O'Brien, Donna Pugh, Mrs. Bright, and Marsha Eaton were responsible for handing out class rings.

Senior's said "Sayonara" to their past five years at Kellam with one of the culminating events of their senior year, the Senior Prom. Decore was that of parasals and Japanese lanterns.

Highlights of the evening of May 20 were the presentation of Gamma Sigma Awards to eighteen deserving seniors and a gift of appreciation to the class sponsor, Miss Inez Bryan. The Gamma Sigma Awards were given out by John Sachon, a 1971 graduate of Kellam; Steve Hallead, senior class president, presented Miss Bryan with the class gift of a silver cigarette lighter.

White Sands Country Club accomodated the Knights, and the bands who provided the music were Emily and Dust. Decorations were the responsibility of chairmen Sam Kirkland and Leslie Banwarth; refreshments, Jeri Moore; and invitations, Beverly Frost.

Admittance to the White Sands was handled by the ROTC.

Elimination is a sticky situation!

Seniors proved their superiorty once again by defeating the juniors 8-6 at the eighth annual Powder Puff game. The seniors were coached under the direction of Mr. Roy Ammons. Mr. Joe Peccia was the junior coach.

Besides the excitement of the game, the junior and senior cheerleaders added some excitement of their own. Their games included water-balloon throwing, whipped-cream spraying, and shaving-cream squirting.

During half-time the drill team performed their antics. Grady Hill was crowned queen while the other candidates — Bill Shirley, Phil Fletcher, Alex Kutos, Rodney Brown, and Carlton Doughtie — received pies in their faces.

Three cheers for the winning seniors!

Seniors attended their religious service, baccalaureate, on June 4 at three in the afternoon. Baccalaureate can be considered the prelude to graduation.

Reverend Richard Woodard delivered a sermon about the aspects of having a good educational foundation against a poor one. Valedictorian, David Bruce gave the scripture reading.

Providing the processional and recessional music was the Kellam Symphonic Band; the Kellam Concert Chorus sang the anthem and choral amen.

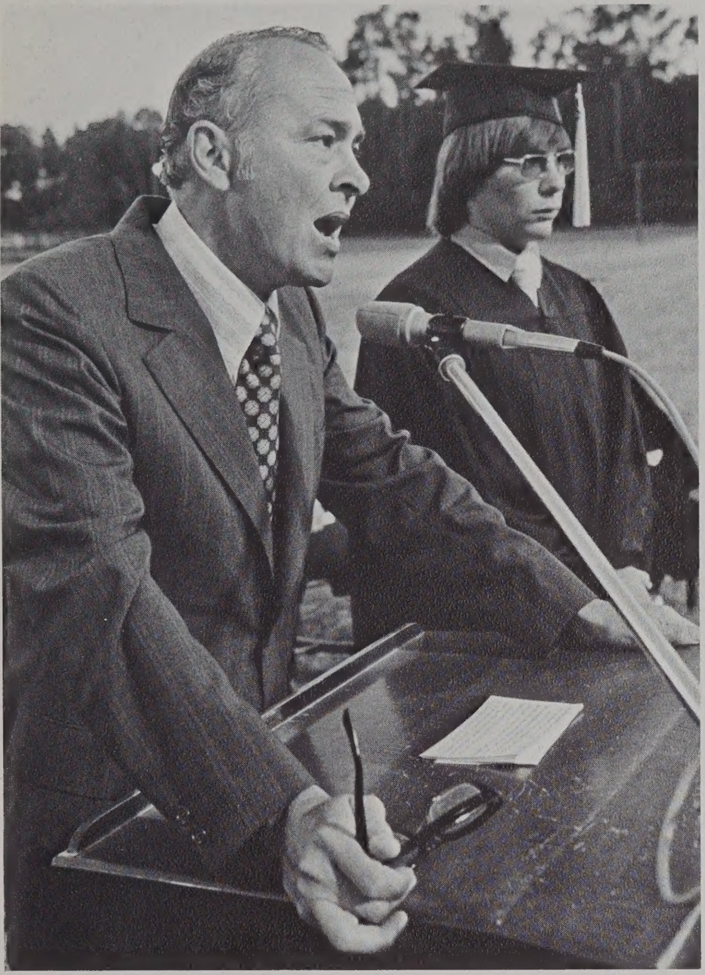
Jefferson Davis Presides At Kellam's Eighth Commencement

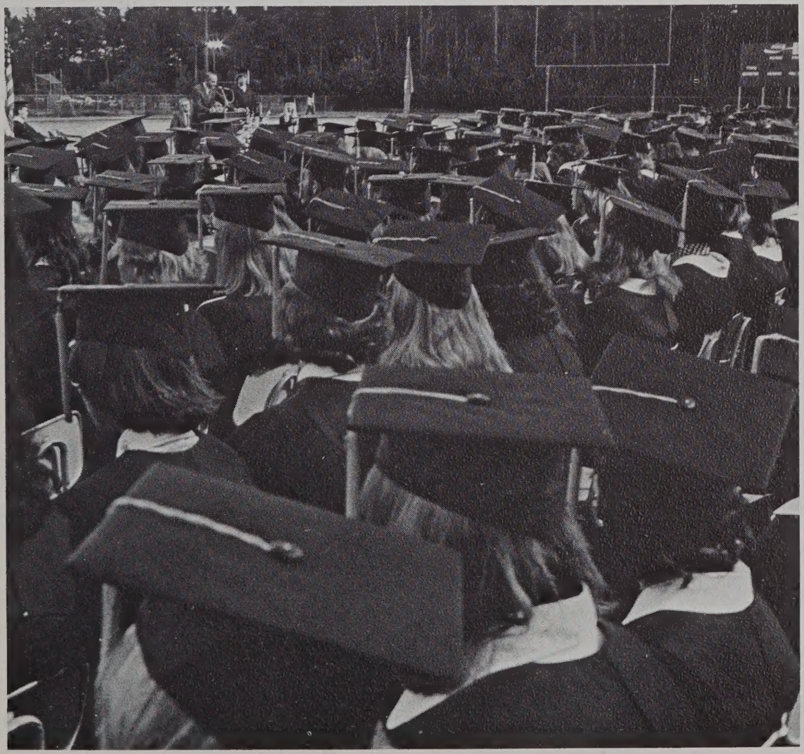


Mr. Davis gives his last speech to the class.

Commencement marks the time when seniors look back on the years past and think of their lives in terms of the future. Kellam's commencement service was held on the evening of June 7, 1972.

Reverend John P. Weinbach delivered the invocation on remembering God in both success and failure. Introduction of the speakers was handled by class president, Steve Hallead. Valedictorian David Bruce gave his address dealing with the seniors' responsibility to solve present problems such as pollution and racial strife in order to insure their futures. Deborah Clifton, salutatorian, presented her address from the lyrics of the song "Vincent" about obtaining understanding between seniors and their parents. Seniors were presented their diplomas by the former principal of Kellam, Mr. Jefferson Davis, who, due to illness, resigned in the latter part of the year.

Processional and recessional music provided by the Kellam Symphonic band began and ended the commencement ceremony.



Attention of the seniors is directed to Mr. Davis' speech.

Eighteen seniors were chosen for Gamma Sigma out of a graduating class of 501. This award is given in honor of school services and dedication displayed by the recipiants during junior and senior years.

Those persons who best qualify and merit the coveted honor of Gamma Sigma are selected by a team consisting of five seniors, Miss Bryan, class sponsor, and Mr. Davis who review the applications submitted. Only five percent of the students in the senior class are eligible to receive this award.

Gamma Sigma awards are given out at the Senior Prom, and also at the first senior homeroom thereafter. Those honored this year by the senior class were Nelson Amis, Cheryl Connelly, Georgette Crisp, Doug Crowe, Tommy Currin, Phil Fletcher, Beverly Frost, Yvonne Gephart, Donna Hahn, Steve Hallead, Mike Kuhn, Mona Lisa Nunez, Michelle Payton, Ginger Rogers, Terri Sawyer, Jean Shearin, Duane Whittington, and Nancy Williamson.

Donkey Basketball Game Provides Kicks And Laughs

Heels and hooves were kicking the night of March 22 while Kellam's first donkey Basketball game was in play. The teams playing were the male athletic coaches and the Monogram club, though at times it seemed as if the donkeys made up a third rival. Neither the donkeys nor the Monogram club held the coaches back, for they reigned victorious with a score of 30 to 20.

Kellam's Athletic Association sponsored the event which hopes to make donkey basketball an annual happening. All proceeds were used to purchase new athletic equipment.

Remaining atop the donkey was one of the most difficult feats.

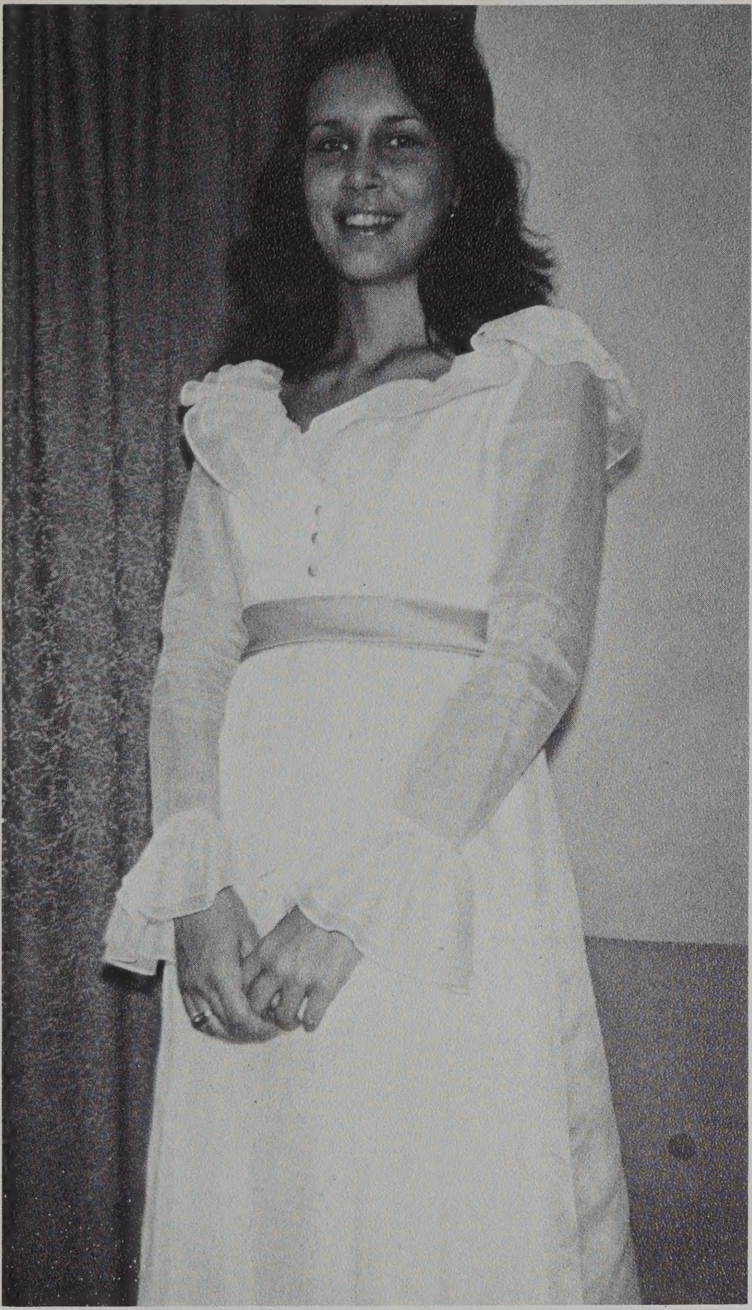
Heywood Represents Beach Area In Norfolk Azalea Festival



Gail stands poised and posed in her festival gown.

Representing Kellam in the Azalea Festival, a tribute to NATO, was Miss Gail Heywood who attended the princess representing Belgium. Gail's duties were to act as a guide and interpreter with American slang and customs during the one week celebration.

Miss Heywood was one of two students selected from the Beach area. A request from the chairman of the Azalea Festival Committee was sent to Assistant Principal Miss Rountree who chose Gail with the assistance of a committee composed of faculty members and students of Kellam.

According to Miss Heywood, the most memorable aspect of the festival was the opportunity she had to chat with the Azalea queen, Miss Maria Teresa Sanchez of Portugal.

Being an Azalea Court princess was easy for Gail who was also selected Homecoming queen this year.

Gail admires the last blooming azaleas of the season.

"Feed Freedom With Knowledge" — Davis

The addition of NJROTC to the curriculum at Kellam pleased many people, including Principal Jefferson Davis.

Mr. Davis is a firm believer in Kellam's symbol Paseite Liberatum Scienta, "Feed Freedom With Knowledge." He also endeavors to promote patriotism throughout the school.

A World War II veteran and proud holder of both the Purple Heart and the Aid Medal, Mr. Davis began his educational career as a teacher at Kempsville and Princess Anne High Schools. Later, he became assistant principal of Oceana High School and then, principal of Woodstock Elementary. Since 1962, the year Floyd E. Kellam opened its doors. Mr. Davis has been among those who have helped to build Kellam to the school it is today by realizing the importance of individualism as the outgrowth of togetherness.

Tepo "Tackles" Disciplinary Duties — Recalls Pro Years

Mr. Tepo, Kellam's one-man clean-up committee, pauses to remind a friendly lunch table to clean-up their trash.

Mr. George Tepo is a familiar person to students at Kellam; whether he is in his office or canvassing the halls, a ready greeting and prompt service awaits each student. He is in charge of disciplinary actions and keeps up a one-man campaign to keep Kellam clean. The task of handling students with excessive tardies and absences are also his.

Previous to his appointment as assistant principal, Mr. Tepo served Kellam as a history teacher. In 1963 he also took on the added responsibility of Athletic Director.

Mr. Tepo hails from Tamaqua, Pennsylvania, where he played both offensive and defensive end for his high school football team. During his schooling at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Fordham University, he also played the position of end. He then went on to play football for the Boston Yanks, now known as the Baltimore Colts. His best performance was displayed in the 1942 Sugar Bowl.

Double Shifts, Eight Bells Pose Challenge For Rountree

The hidden force behind the coordination of curriculum at Kellam is the assistant principal, Miss Shirley Rountree. It is she who does everything possible to assure a well-planned, smooth-operating day at school.

Having an eight bell schedule and two shifts of students and faculty personnel to deal with, Miss Rountree has found little time for relaxation. When there is time for a few free hours, one might find her on the beach or walking her dog, Pepper.

As a former guidance counselor at Kellam, history teacher, and director of religous education for the United States Government in Germany, Miss Rountree has had a versatile background to assist her in meeting the constant demands of her present position.

Even through a "difficult" day Miss Rountree retains her smile.

Miss Rountree conducts a faculty meeting to discuss changes in curriculm.

Mrs. Smith discusses homeroom registers with Miss Rountree.

Mr. Booth and Sheryl Bell discuss Senior Astivities in the office.

Kellam students welcomed Mr. Edwin Booth as a new assistant principal to the school. Besides being responsible for the buses, Mr. Booth contacted substitute teachers who were needed during the day, and taught four sections of government.

Previous to this year Mr. Booth taught at First Colonial and was head football coach at Maury, Oscar Smith, and Smithfield high schools. He also coached the Neptures and the Norfolk All-Stars. He received his undergraduate degree at Emory and Henry and his masters from Old Dominion University.

Mr. Booth is very much interested in music and plays the guitar quite well. He used this talent as more than a hobby when he played with a group that used to perform at the Surfrider.

Next year Mr. Booth will not be at Kellam but will be teaching and coaching at Kempsville High School.

College And Vocational Students Receive Guidance Aid

Helping students to solve educational, vocational, and personal-social problems is the primary objective of the guidance department. Mr. Wade Duke, department chairman, and his staff strive to give individual students a feeling of confidence in themselves as well as others.

Helping students to make satisfactory adjustments in areas that may be causing problems is the counselor's aim. Many students find their counselor a great deal of help when it comes to class and curriculum planning. Whether a student be college or vocationally oriented, the counselors are qualified to suggest the correct courses necessary to achieving the particular goal.

This year Mr. Duke sponsored a new program called Teens Rendering Aid in Drug Education. The purpose of this was to inform sixth and seventh graders of the dangers of drugs before these people entered high school. TRADE included lectures which were presented at nine elementary schools by thirty-two students who went to these schools in teams.

"People helping people" might be the motto for those persons associated with the office and library staffs. Certainly they are there for many items beyond the "routine."

Office personnel answer phones, relay messages, take letters, keep accurate school records, check in students who are tardy, check out those with acceptable reasons for leaving, register items for lost and found and seemingly never end one day sufficiently to catch up for the next.

Pilot studies engaged in by English classes with cassette tapes, a four-channel listening system and other sound-slide programs entered a second year of experimentation. Numerous books, records and sound-slide materials were catalogued during the year to benefit both students and faculty.

The experiment was coordinated through combined efforts of Mr. Wilma Egas, Math Department chairman, and Miss Inez Bryan, English Department chairman.

Both Average and remedial English Students continued to experience a greater amount of group work. Studies of famous works, modern literature, transformational and traditional grammar gave each student a diversified English background.

Speech classes under the direction of Miss Mary Green Ariail consistantly worked for better speaking ability, speech interpretation, and creative speaking.

Cassettes, sound slides and the controlled reader are used as teaching aids in developing individual reading ability.

Students in the reading classes this year were either starving or half-asleep, as the elimination of study halls forced the scheduling of these classes during half of the lunch bells, just before or after the mid-day feast. Mr. Glover, the reading specialist, saw his major task as "helping students to forget their thoughts of food, an excercise in self-denial that may prove useful in later life."

The twenty-five minute periods were used to emphasize reading speed and comprehension skills, using audiovisual equipment such as the controlled reader, which projects words on a screen at a specified rate of words per minute.

International Festival Spoofs TV Actors, Programs

Students taking a foreign language are given opportunities to learn the language, customs, and ways of life of peoples all over the world. The Foreign Language Department, headed by Mr. Carl Peterson, works toward the appreciation and understanding of students for these phases.

The annual International Festival, coordinated by student chairman, Patti Heberling, was held on Sunday, February 13. The Festival included an art show and various skits by language students. Those skits given included a German tavern scene; the staging of a cafe scene by French students with "authentic" can-can girls; "Johnnis Carsons," a take-off on the television personality as done by the Latin students; and a presentation inspired by "All in the Family." Art contest winners were Doug Fowler placing first, Richard Robinson taking second place, and Chris Voitsberger, third place.

Diversified experiences in different art techniques is the Art Department's aim. A presentation in units such as sketching, painting, theory, appreciation, and the color wheel make up an art course.

Both first and second year art students are initiated into water colors and ink sketches. A specific goal is close at hand through these activities, development of one's own techniques, and specializations.

Several festivals highlighted this year for the artistically inclined. In February, the International Festival Art Show was the main concern. March brought Youth Art Month, revolving displays by specific levels of student works. April was calendared as Village Gallery Teenage Art Month and May rounded the year's activities with exhibits at the Virginia Beach Civic Center and Pembroke Mall through the auspices of Virginia Beach Arts Festival.

Instrumental Music Opens Doors To Enrichment And Fun

A new band director, Mr. John Sperry, came to Kellam this year to lead the marching Knights. Offering the delights and joys of music to a wide segment of the student body, playing and marching during football half-times, and attending Band festivals highlighted the year.

In order to instruct as many students as possible in their musical endeavors, the band is divided into three divisions according to the musical abilities of the individual student. The first division, "C" band, teaches beginning students how to read music and to play their instruments. The next division, "B" band, is for those students who have learned to read music, but who have not quite mastered the instruments. The last division, "A" band, is for those students who have reached a point of near perfection in playing their instruments.

Students Recognized In Regional And State Choruses

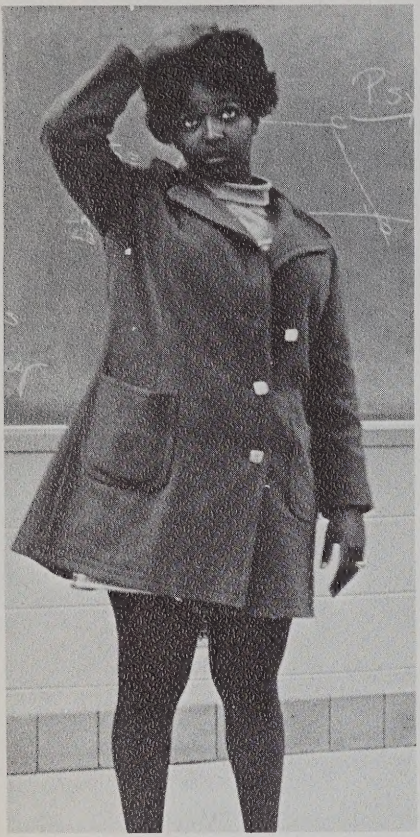
Mr. Tatem adds his own style to the music being performed.

The major objective of the Chorus Department, led by Mr. Frank Tatem, is to learn music in all its phases and to achieve both a sense of accomplishment and pleasure from its study. There are four choruses within the department: the Mixed Chorus, Concert Chorus, the Girl's Chorus, and Madrigals.

Several Kellam singers were invited to attend the Regional Chorus. These included Rosalyn Knight, Donna Hahn, Marie McWilliams, Joyce Tatem, Michael Williams, Billy Reese, and Okey Richards. Three persons were selected for the All-State Chorus: Billy Reese, Michael Williams, and Rosalyn Knight.

Kellam Students Concern Selves With POW-MIA Activities



In psychology class actions are worth a thousand words.

Have you forgotten...

Mrs. Jones and concerned students review P.O.W.-M.I.A. projects.

Awareness of the individual within society, the ability to think and make valid judgements, an appreciation of America's heritage, and the responsibilities, privileges, and blessings of these United States are basic elements of the Social Studies Department.

Since 1972 is an election year, all classes have had an opportunity for making studies especially relevant to contempory life. The Virginia Beach school-bond referendum also added a timely element to studies.

Mrs. Jesse Jones, government teacher and her seventh-bell class were especially involved with the Prisoners-of-War Missing-In-Action issue. A phone call to the White House and a trip to Washington, D.C., brought forth an awareness of the concern of young people, especially those in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Insight And Understanding — Science Department Goals

Porosity-testing shows these students how fast water flows through different types of soil.

Insight and understanding were the goals of the Science Department. Mr. George Hecker, department chairman, and his staff strived to awaken the student to all of the fascinating scientific aspects of his environment. Courses offered include physical science, earth-space science, biology, chemistry, and physics to marine science.

An active Science Club was inaugurated to insure that students with special interests in science would have the opportunity for field work, of contact with expert guest lecturers, and of competition for the many scholarships and prizes offered. The Science Club also sponsored training in underwater swimming — a need that was an outgrowth of the summer marine science program.

Individual Interests, Needs, Abilities Get Attention

Multi-faceted is a term one might use to describe the Mathematics Department. Those administrating the curriculum strive not only to dispense knowledge, but also to provide a total learning experience for each individual student.

Classes offered assist the diversified abilities and knowledge levels of each student to adapt to the required use of more advanced mathematics. An understanding of only basic arithmetic is no longer an accurate vantage in an ever-changing computer-oriented society, therefore, a diversification of classes is extremely essential.

Courses catering to both the college-bound and vocationally oriented students include general mathematics, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus, consumer math, and math analysis. They are developed to correspond with individual interests, needs and abilities.

This is really getting down to it: look and learn!

Varied Program Stressed By Home Economics Department

Although cooking and sewing are an integral part of a home economics course, the Kellam Home Economics Department provides a varied program.

In addition to nutrition, foods, clothing, and health, the curriculum includes child care and development, home planning, and etiquette. To provide practical experience each student is required to submit one home project during the year.

The Home Economice Department is consistantly striving to provide the necessary fundamentals to enable the individual student to deal successfully with both personal and family relationships.

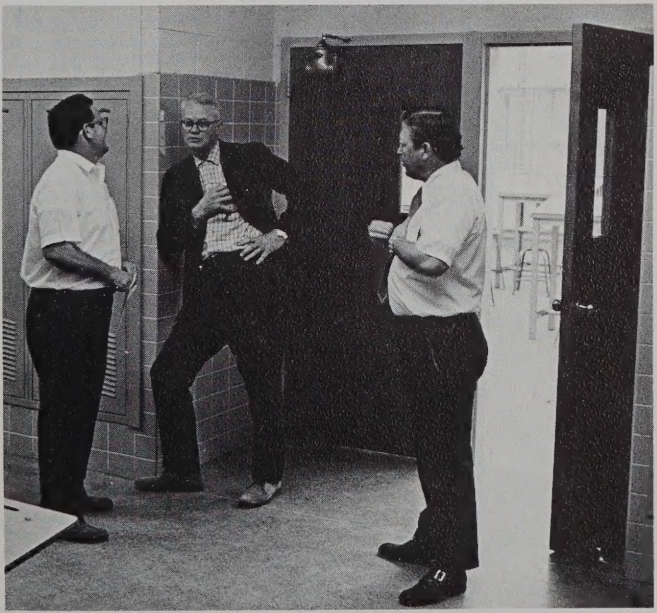
Working directly with the subject is the teaching aid used by the Industrial Arts Department. Practical skills are learned by in-the-classroom techniques stressing dealing with each indivdual machine or project.

Woods develops on a three year level. The first year the basics involving the use of the shop tools are taught. The second and third years are used to acquaint the student with the lath and the operation of more advanced machinery.

Metal shop deals with the learning skills such as metal shaping and arch welding. Students are taught how to evolve metal from a plain sheet into useful articles.

William Jones works with the lathe in Metal's shop.

Constructive Abilities Stimulated By Industrial Arts



Mr. Webb, Mr. Carruth, and Mr. Ergenbright have a lively discussion between classes.

Mr. Valentine supervises Ronnie Joyce and Steve Boggs in overhauling an engine.

Nichols And Valentine Aid In Developing Tomorrow's Farmers

Farm management, livestock farming, forestry, the use of electric and gas welding machines, and driving a tractor make up the major part of the Agriculture curriculum. Individual achievement is recognized by the degree of learning in good crop growth, public speaking, livestock, forestry and the students ability to maneuver a tractor.

Agriculture is taught by Mr. Garland Nichols and Mr. Herman Valentine. Both instructors, having taught at Kellam previously, have guided the students toward learning proper safety precautions, and essential element to the running of any farm large or small. Along with the conventional lines one thinks of in an agriculture course, engine mechanics is also stressed in this department. Hand drills are among the tools mastered. Crop harvesting and crop yield versus the income they bring are also an element in the development of tomorrow's farmers.

Agriculture is a class where one's practical experience may be applied.

Mr. Valentine's agriculture class emphasizes engine mechanics.

A part of horticulture deals with soil conservation.

The horticulture curriculum is based on the assumptions that each student will at some time be a homeowner or a businessman and that he will wish to have well landscaped, attractive grounds in the most ecconomical and easily maintained way; that some students will continue their study in this field toward a professional job, and that other students will engage in some type of landscape maintenance work.

Opportunities were provided for students to learn and to practice total greenhouse management as well as to learn regular landscape gardening techniques. Much emphasis was placed on learning horticulture principals and on learning the common plant materials used in the area.

The Business Department at Kellam is one that constantly strives to provide a total learning experience. Mr. Hubert Eason, department chairman, and his staff members provide students with consumer information, guidance, and learning experiences, as well as business economic understanding for intelligent citizenship.

Three major areas of classes are used in the curriculum. Basic business education constitute the phase which contributes to the primary understandings and knowledges needed by all students. In school and vocational business education is that phase of the entire program that attempts to equip a student entrance-level skills and training necessary to secure a living through his vocation. Cooperative programs require active performance for students who have career objectives in office occupations.

Cafeteria Meets Demands Of Four Hungry Lunch Shifts

Kellam High School's cafeteria staff had the difficult job of preparing foods of all kinds in tremendous amounts.

The food preparation personnel along with their student helpers had an extra lunch bell to work with this year. These devoted individuals cared about a balanced diet for the student body, and attempted to see that every student obtained the nourishment needed while also seeing that the food was tasteful. Their success was indicated by the variety of meals and especially by those de-e-e-licious homemade rolls.

Mrs. Simpson and Doris McClain make those home-made rolls even tastier by inserting butter.

Mr. Flora pauses to instruct staff members for their chores.

The custodial staff has the difficult task of keeping Kellam cleaned and polished. These individuals are responsible for the general appearance of the school: Mr. Marvin W. Flora heads the staff with assistants William Davis, Junios Archer, Minnie McCoy, Shirley Phillips, and Rasalee Harris. Mowed lawns, trimmed and pruned bushes, refueling busses, sweeping the halls, scrubbing and waxing of floors, doing minor repairs such as unjamming lockers for students, replacing broken windows and burned-out lights. These and many other things make Kellam a more pleasant, efficient, and effective learning center.

Seniors Close Doors On Five Years At Kellam

Senior year was filled with many exciting events. Seniors were victorious in the annual Powder Puff challenge against the juniors; the Senior Prom was held in May at the White Sands Country Club; "A token Of Our Esteem," the class pay, met with success; and the Sadie Hawkin's Day Divorce Court was a unique event as a money-making project. Winding up a year of excitement and expectation were the graduation ceremonies in June.

Every class must have leaders to organize and supervise the events that make the year something to remember. Steve Hallead, president, led the class with the assistance and cooperation of Bonnie Jones, first vice-president; Ginger Rogers, second vice-president; Jean Shearin, secretary; Beverly Frost, treasurer; Marty Smith, publicity chairman; and Miss Inez Bryan, senior class sponsor.

Seniors numbered five-hundred and eleven, the largest graduating class ever at Floyd E. Kellam High. With a need for much hard work from officers and sponsor, a second vice-president was added to the ranks of class officers for the first time.

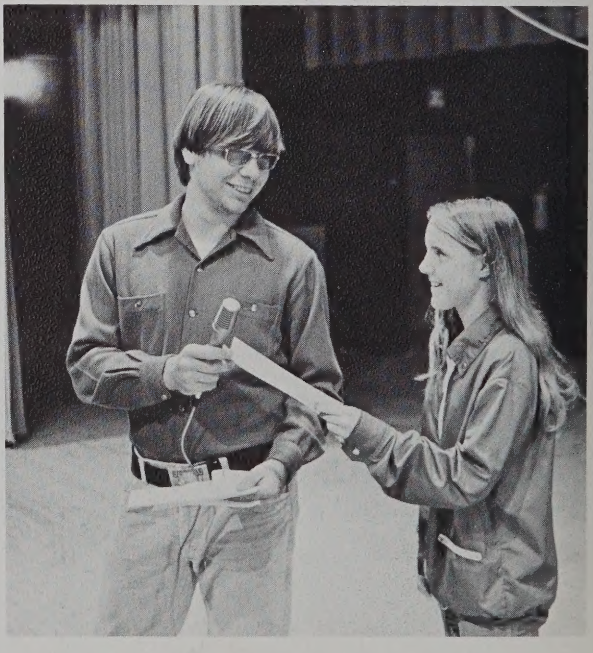
Bonnie Jones and Ginger Rogers discuss plans for senior activities.



Making announcements in senior homeroom is one of the jobs of the President.

Jean Shearin collects money for Senior pins from Donna Hahn.

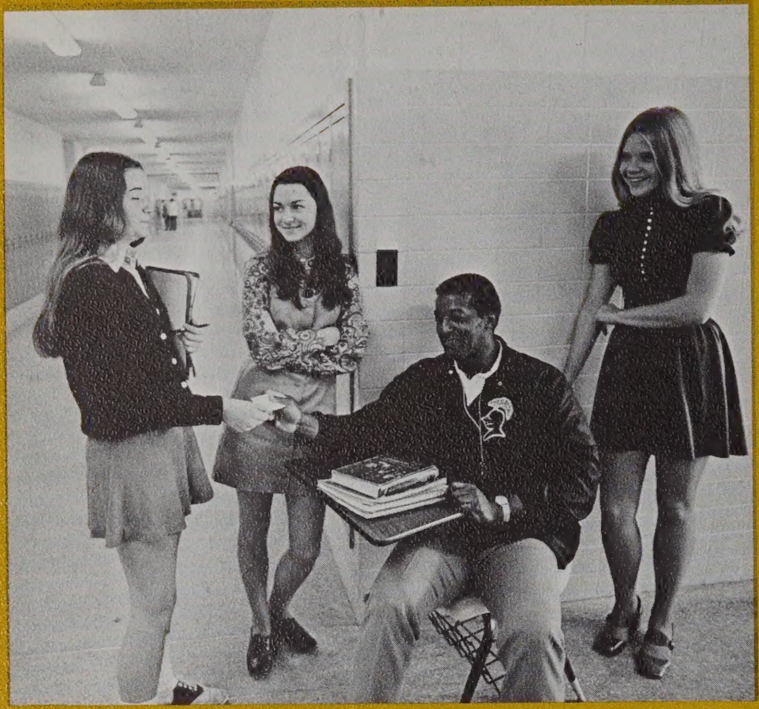
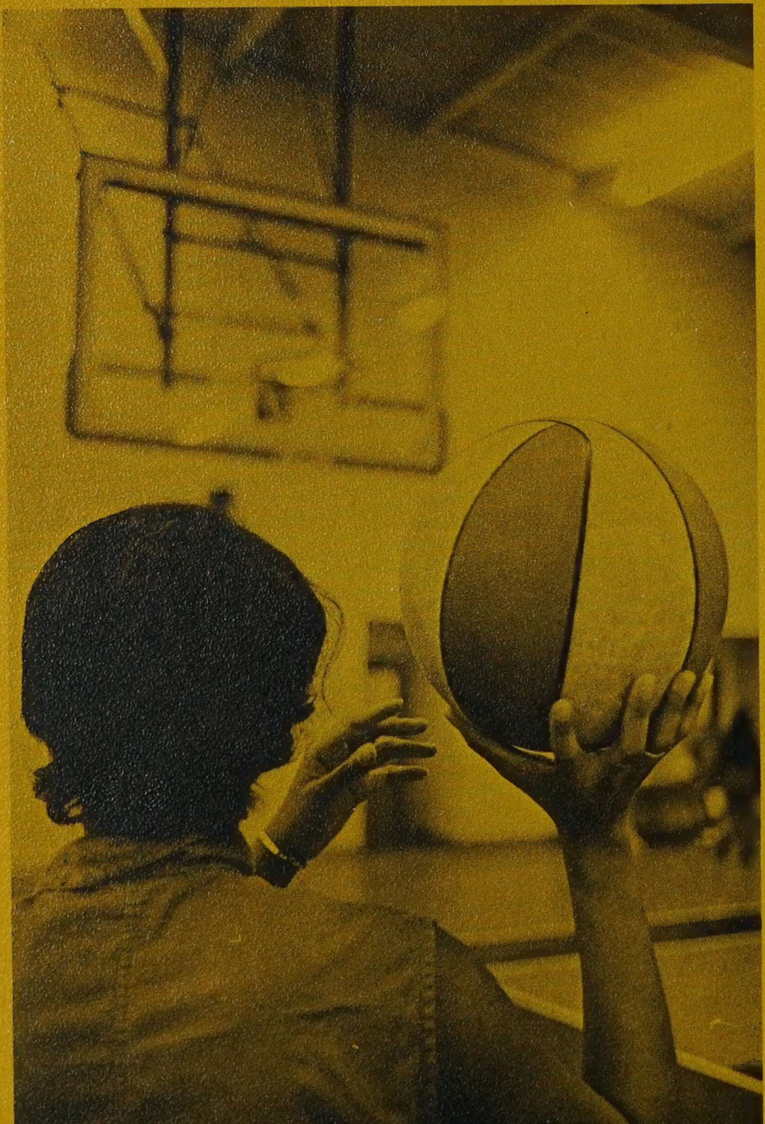
Kellam High School ever faithful, noble, brave and strong;
Glory, honor, truth and beauty echo in our song.
And with hearts of thankfulness, we lift your praises high;
Kellam lead us ever onward as the years go by.





Underclassmen

Growth as an individual really begins to be formulated during the first four years of high school. Underclassmen are constantly striving to find themselves. The inter-action that they take part in adds little-by-little to the personalities that they become.

Juniors Undertake Last Year As Underclassmen

The junior class started the year off by selling candy bars and earned one thousand dollars. Then, in the late fall the juniors participated in the annual powder puff game against the seniors. The greatest occasion, though, for the juniors was the Ring Dance in January held at White Sands Country Club.

Richard O'Brien was president of the junior class. Other officers were Buddy Utley, vice-president; Marsha Eaton, secretary; and Donna Pugh, treasurer. Mrs. Anne Bright was class sponsor.

McCormick And Nance Lead Sophomores To Success

The most exciting event for the sophomore class was the traditional Crystal Ball, held in May. The sophomore class also sponsored a homecoming float and sold Reeses Cups as a fund-raising project. In anticipation of their junior year, they ordered their class rings early. Mrs. Toryk was sponsor for the class and George McCormick was president. Other officers were Mare Nance, vice-president; Cindy Balicky, secretary; Bonnie Bourne, treasurer; and Diane Bengele, reporter-historian.

Busy are the days of sophomores.

Freshmen Increase Treasury Through Class Project

Kellam's freshman class was led through an eventful year by a well-organized council. Besides the leadership of Mr. Don Peccia, the freshman class had Sarah Malbon as their president. Other officers were Susan Kellam, vice-president; Renee Shirley, secretary; Karen Nichols, treasurer; and Jeanette Murphy, reporter-historian. Council members included Robin Hartley, Meg Hathaway, Kim Halstead, Allen Settell, Kathy Haskell, George Bryan, and Olive Hoggard.

The freshmen class helped the sophomores sponsor the traditional Crystal Ball. They also made basketball and wrestling programs as a money-making project.

Freshmen Join "Hussel And Bussel" Of High School Life

8th grade officers are: L to R Brenda Smith, treasurer; Marla Skaggs, secretary; John Dewberry, vice-president; Hope Lang, president.

Being an eighth grader included facing many challenges. Activities this year were very few since the eighth grade class was not accustomed to the way of student life at Kellam. The leadership of Mr. Elgia Easter made the eighth grade class feel more at home in the "hussle and bussle" of high school life.

President of the eighth grade class was Hope Lang. Other officers were John Dewberry, vice-president; Marla Skaggs, secretary; and Brenda Smith, treasurer. These officers prepared for what they hoped to be a great freshman year of '72-'73.

Sports

In Sports a strong dependency of the individual on the team, and the team on the individual exists. When each member of the team performs to the best of his ability, in his specialized activity, the team as a whole benefits. Anyone who participates in sports activities is enlightened to the importance of working together to bring about excellence.

Kellam's Varsity Football team had a disappointing season this year with a record of one win, nine losses. Hard knocks were dealt the team with the four quarterbacks and eight players from other areas receiving injuries.

A new coaching staff was appointed this year with John Cooke as head coach; Jim Sereno, assistant coach and defensive line; Josh Darden, assistant coach and offensive line; and Larry Weldon, assistant coach and backfield.

Kellam should have a winning season next year with 27 players returning and rising players from a winning junior varsity.

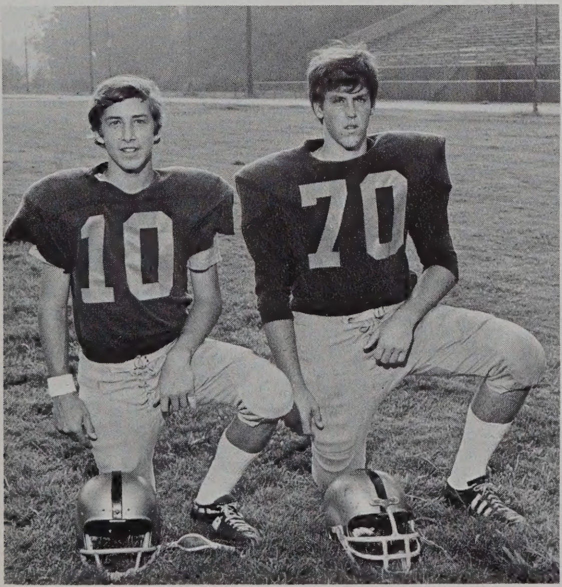
Highlighting the J.V. Football season was the 35-8 point win over Cox, and the 18-6 win over Bayside. The game played against Cox was almost perfectly played with the offence racking up over 400 yards and the defense only yielding when reserves could not stop the desperate Falcons.

Leading the team were co-captains Ken Rutledge and Bobby Carter, under the guidance of head coach Mr. Joe Peccia, and assistant coaches Mr. Dick Hamlet and Mr. Don Peccia. Ken Rutledge, Most Valuable Player, did an outstanding job on both offense and defense. Long touchdown passes by Danny DeIulio supplemented by fine catches by Rick Coffen made them an excellent offensive team. Alexander Jordan was a superb defensive back.



J.V. co-captains are Ken Rutledge and Bob Carter.

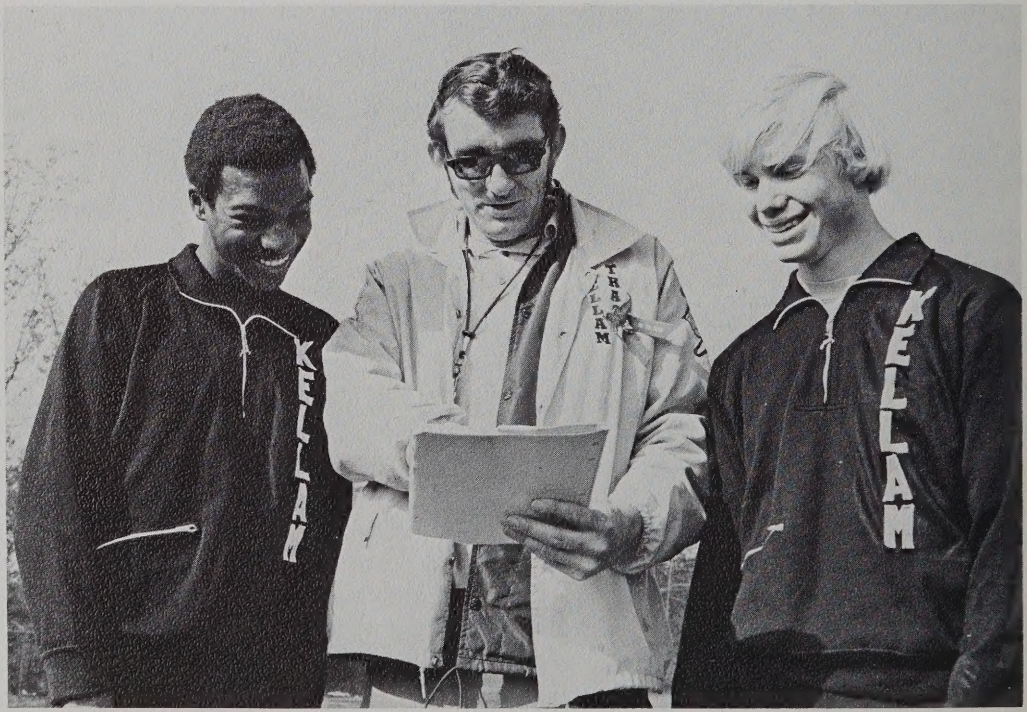
Members of the cross-country team are: Robert Simons, Steve Taylor, Robert Stover, Brent Busey, Mike Williams, and Steve McPherson.

Cross Country Drops Dual Meet, Attends Invitationals

Cross-country dropped its dual meet schedule this year in favor of a big meet every Saturday. Since four of the top five runners for last year graduated and the emphasis for this season was on rebuilding, Coach Roy Ammons and his men were not too disappointed in their showing this year.

Runners for Kellam took sixth place in the Portsmouth Jaycee meet, fifth in the Newport News Invitational meet, sixth in the District, and 31st in the William and Mary Invitational. Steve McPherson took individual honors with fourteenth place at the Regional meet and tenth at the District. Robert Stover, number one man on the new junior varsity team, set a record for the Eastern District Junior Varsity course.



Steve McPherson and Brent Busey were Coach Ammon's top two men in cross-country events.

1972 saw a marked improvement in the Kellam Girl's Field Hockey season. Coach Miss Dot Durant hopes to have a better season next year even though some valuable players are graduating.

This year's tri-captains were Terri Sawyer, Debbie Payne, and Karen Bryant. Terri Sawyer was selected for the second team at the Tidewater Field Hockey Association's Sports Day held at William and Mary College and also received a trophy at the Kellam fall sports banquet for being the outstanding Field Hockey player. Goalie, Lew Thomas in her first year on the team was a strong addition and Debbie Payne was the high scorer.

Hopefuls for next year's season are Sherrie Barnard and Brenda Moody who did an outstanding job at the halfback position.

Morgan, Sardie, Wood Break Previous Records For Varsity Squad

Varsity Basketball had a disappointing season this year much of which can be attributed to the loss of players. The team did win two conference game victories and ranked ninth in the district preceeding First Colonial.

Randy Morgan and Doug Crowe, co-captains, led the team under the direction of Coach Kenneth Stallings. Outstanding players were high scorer Richard Wood with 401 points during the year; twenty-five rebounds were attributed to Randy Morgan in the First Colonial game; and Charles Sardie held the school record with 232 rebounds this season.

Expectations for next year are high as many strong-playing sophomores will return as will rising junior varsity members.

JV Basketball Team Sets New Record Against First Colonial

Ten wins and eight losses became the final record for the Junior Varsity Basketball team. A new Junior Varsity record was set against First Colonial with a win of 107-59. Coach Morris appointed co-captains for each game instead of having permanent ones.

Sonny Blackmon and Craig Williams were the high scorers with Sonny breaking the single game record scoring 37 points against Cox. Craig Williams was also the leading rebounder.

Mr. Morris expresses high hopes for eighth graders Brian Macon who played well in the last four games of the season.

1971-72 Varsity Wrestling Team Ranked Seventh In The State

After a dual meet season of many ups and downs, the wrestling team "put it all together" in the state meet at Hayfield High School in Fairfax County, Virginia. Kellam entered two wrestlers — co-captains Rick Land and John Akins. Both made it to the finals with Land taking second in state and Akins bringing home a state championship. Akins' championship is the second for Kellam in any sport, the other state championship belonging to Danny Boyd who won the 165 lb. weight division in wrestling in 1967.

Kellam suffered through the duel meet season. Injuries, grade eligibilities and other problems beset key wrestlers. The highlight of the dual meet season had to be against Oscar Smith, when for the first time all season the team fielded all twelve varsity starters and knocked off first ranked Smith in a duel meet victory. Smith won the southeastern crown with only one blemish on its record — its loss to Kellam.

The team had its best finish in state in many years with a seventh place finish out of 100 competing schools.

Grapplers Bounce Granby State Champs; End Season 7-4-1

The Junior Varsity Wrestling team led by Rusty Yerkes, Bob Teachout and John Venner rolled up another winning season. The first few matches in duel meets roller-coastered up and down as the boys gained experience and seasoning. Highlight of the J.V. season was the Norview match when Kellam battled the Pilots to a hardfought draw. Norview perenially has one of the toughest J.V. clubs in the district and has, in the past, rolled up big scores on the Knights. Norview had to lick its wounds this year, however. Another high point in the dual meet season was the Granby match. The Knights bounced the state champion Comets off the Granby mat and out of the Granby gym to the tune of 45-16.

This year's J.V. team was outstanding in that it had a good nucleus of consistent winners who were also pinners. That the team did as well as it did while forefeiting 105 lbs. and heavyweight through most of the matches is to its credit. Several eighth graders made the team this year and did well — John Venner, Mark and Bill Terry. These returners plus an excellent crop of young grapplers coming up from Plaza Junior High School should give Kellam an excellent J.V. team next year.

Currin, DeIulio, Lanning And Marquette Stand Out For Season

Mike DeIulio, the team's most valuable player, hit .396 and stole 14 bases to lead Kellam's Varsity Baseball team in these departments. DeIulio also led in runs scored with 12, base hits with 19, and tied with Dave Marquette in doubles with 4.

Leading pitchers were Dave Marquette and Bill Lanning; Marquette with a 1.35 earned run average and Lanning with 3 wins and a team strike out record of 29. The top defensive player for the year was catcher Tommy Currin.

Baby Knights Open JV Season With 7 Game Winning Streak

Roebuck gets another hit!

The 1972 Junior Varsity baseball team began the season with a seven-game winning streak. Most responsible for those wins were Rick Bloxom and Ken Roebuck. Scoring heavily in the opening games, as well as good pitching and tight defense, proved to be the junior Knights forte. The last nine games proved to be tough for the Knights as the bats stopped hitting. Good pitching and tight defense kept the Knights alive, however, in all games but one. Bob Morissey provided the hits when really needed.

Gymnasts Hold Regional At Kellam — Knights Take Third

Kellam's gymnastics experienced a season that was not as good as possible. Coach Richard Perceful explains the 5 dual meet losses by saying, "It's been a building year."

Kellam won against only Bayside, settling for defeats against First Colonial, Kempsville, Bayside, and two South Hampton teams. In the regionals, held at Kellam, the Knights took a third. Kellam's floor exercise team of Mike Kuhn, Jimmy Horne, Mike Pendleton and Keith Reiger took first in the regionals.

The State meet was held in Falls Church at Yorktown High School. Kellam had two boys compete. They were Keith Reiger, all around; and Jimmy Horne, floor exercise. They finished eighth over all.

All duel meets were lost this year, but the individual progress of the individual girl gymnasts was outstanding. Bunnie Wadsworth won the Most Outstanding Gymnast Award at the spring athletic banquet; Margaret Stillo and Donna Hutchinson were strong additions to the team. Many girls were scratched from the Eastern District Meet because of injuries, but those who did perform did an excellent job although they did not place.

Enthusiasm and drive possessed by the team should help them to rise in standing next year.

Miss Dot DuRant coached the girls; no captains were chosen due to lack of need.

Girls Join Track Team — Participate In Norfolk State Relays

Kellam's line up in the hundred yard dash are: Reba Dill, Roxanne Nollette and Debbie Carnell.

Kellam's track team had a unique season with members placing in the city district, regional, and state meets.

In the city meet held at First Colonial, Mike Williams placed first in the 880 yard run; Charlie Hawk placed first in the pole vault; Steve McPherson placed second in the 440; Steve Taylor placed fourth in the two mile run; George Irby placed first in the shot put; Robert Simons placed fourth in the mile run; and the mile relay team of Randy Mortan, Travis Halstead, Mike Williams, and Steve McPherson came in third.

In the district meet held at Foreman Field, the track team had four places: first in the 880, first in the pole vault, third in the pole vault, and fifth in the 440.

Representing Kellam at the state meet was Charlie Hawk who placed second in the pole vault.

Kellam also placed in the regional meet held in Chesapeake. Hawk placed first in the pole vault; Williams placed fifth in the 880; and McPherson placed fifth in the 440.

Three girls on the track team — Reba Dills, Roxanne Nollette, and Debbie Carnell — represented Kellam at the Norfolk State Relays. Nollette came in first. Kellam's Sprint Medley team also took that day a first out of forty schools from Virginia and Washington. Running for Kellam were McPherson in the 440, Morgan in the 220, Corprew in the 220, and Williams in the 880.

Several school records were broken during the season. They were broken by: Charlie Hawk, 14' in the pole vault; Steve McPherson, 50.1 in the 440; and Mike Williams, 1:56.6 in the 880.

Kellam Golf Team Takes Second Place Honors In State Tournament

After taking second place in the City Tournament and a third in the Eastern District, Kellam's golf team went on to boast of second place in both Regional and State Tournaments. They found their stiffest competition for the year from the Princess Anne team, headed by Curtis Strange, whom they rivaled right to the State Tournament.

Team members, guided by Mr. George Owens, saw only two defeats during the regular season, posting an 8-2 record. Playing for Kellam were Alan and Dennis Dozier, Tommy Womack, Tommy Hardee, and Tony Davis.

Tennis Team Boasts 4-7 Season — Junior Team Raises Hopes

Under the direction of Mr. Woodruff, the Kellam tennis team experienced their best conference season with a record of 4 wins and 7 losses. David Howard, team captain, and Donald cox were the outstanding players this year with Donald receiving recognition as the player who won the majority of the conference games.

A junior team was begun this year for the purpose of developing their skills in preparation for future varsity competition. The junior members played only exhibition matches with juniors from other schools.

Coach Woodruff has high expectations for Mike Kane and Mike Swindell, doubles team in both doubles and singles matches next year.

Floyd E. Kellam's Student Cooperative Association strived to promote citizenship, leadership, and unity through cooperation among students, faculty, and administrators.

During the week before Thanksgiving, the club collected canned foods for a needy family and during the week before Christmas, had a mailbox in the library corridor so that students and teachers could send Christmas cards within the school. In March the club replaced the flags in all the classrooms. This was the first time flags have been replaced since the opening of the school.

The tradition of a Saturday night homecoming dance was sponsored again this year by the SCA. For the first time, free refreshments were given. The student body proved that they could adapt to any situation when the game was canceled to Saturday afternoon, due to rain.

FCA Activities Promote Principles Of Christianity

Any young man interested in illustrating the teachings of Christ through participation in athletics may join the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The focal point of the club is to encourage young men to adopt Christian attitudes in their participation in sports. The club's founder Coach Bill Ralph left Kellam last year to enter the ministry and Mr. Adrian Brown assumed the role of sponsor.

Since the change of sponsor, the club has been in the process of reorganization and, therefore has not participated in any projects.

Mr. Brown enjoys a break from the classroom by performing hall duty.

Purposes of the National Honor Society were to promote scholarship, character, leadership, and citizenship among students at Kellam.

The National Honor Society was involved in many different projects this year. Their most important project was the selection of the citizen of the month. This person was one who contributed most to the school through his services, but was not in the National Honor Society. Also the club took care of the nab machines, selected a citizen of the year, had a candy sale, sponsored the Golden Torch Award, and printed the honor roll. In February, the tapping ceremony took place and thirty-seven students were tapped.

Sponsor this year was Miss Nancy Rainey and club officers included Doug Crowe, president; Duane Whittington, vice-president; Linda Nelson, secretary; and Mike Tate, treasurer.

Sickle-Cell Anemia Taken As Project

To meet their goals of good citizenship, preparedness for leadership, and experience in living and working together, the Junior Civitan Club participated in several community projects.

School parking lot clean-ups, washing blackboards, Rosemont Road clean-up, and collections for such causes as Hope Haven Children's Home, Sickle-Cell Anemia, and food drives for the unfortunate were amoung the many service projects that the junior Civitan members participated in. Paper drives, fruitcake sales, and car washes were held in order for the club to raise five-hundred dollars for a senior scholarship.

Last year the club won the Outstanding Club award for the Chesapeke district and Mr. Richard Perceful, sponsor, won the Outstanding Sponsor award.

Officers included: Phil Fletcher, president; Jeanine Vidal, vice-president; Carol Neaton, secretary; Margret Stillo, treasurer; and Duane Whittington, sargeant-at-arms.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Elizabeth Sink and the guidance of president Beverly Frost, vice-president Ginger Rogers, secretary Cheryl Connelly, chaplain Janet Ewing, the Kellam Chapter of the Keyettes made its motto "we serve" stand out.

The purpose of the Keyettes was to help serve others, promote Christianity, and support the general welfare of everyone. Project Concern was the international project for the Keyettes. The club collected books, clothing, money and anything else that could be of some use to the underpriviledged. Keyettes also entered a float in the fall homecoming festivities and took first place.

Key Club Sponsors Senior Scholarship

The Key Club began a new year with ambitious new officers. Mike Wylie as President received much help from the club's sponsor, Mr. George Hecker. Vice-President Steve Hallead, secretary Doug Crowe, and treasurer George Irby rounded out the steering committee.

September brought the beginning of a continuously busy organization. Doughnut sales and car washes were a success with the money raised going toward a scholarship for one of the club's senior members.

The Club did not stop at aiding the school by cleaning the Stadium. In November and December they collected food for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to go to needy families. In January they collected for the Cerebal Palsey fund and in February they collected over $600 for the Brennan family whose home burned causing the death of one of the Brennan's children. March saw Kellam representatives at the annual Key Club convention in Baltimore, and May brought the election of new officers, installation of new members, and a reward for a year's hard work-a beach party.

The purpose of the Trinity Tri-Hi-Y was to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high school standards of Christian character."

At the beginning of the school year, the Tri-Hi-Y members acted as guides for the eighth graders; collected articles for Operation Reindeer, a project for mental patients; collected canned foods for welfare families during Christmas and Thanksgiving; and sold candy mints in order to donate money to the YMCA World Service. Members made it their policy to give a gift to teachers at least once a month.

The club sponsored a party for children on welfare and presented a scholarship to a 1972 senior. Also, they attended the Model General Assembly.

Officers for the year were: Kathy White, president; Pat Illy, vice-president; Sarah White, secretary; Sharon McAllister, treasurer; Diane Turner, reporter-historian; and Paula Sellers, chaplain. Their sponsors were Mrs. Luwana Meghinasso and Mrs. Virginia James.

A "slumber party" is the perfect time to act silly.

Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y again this year sponsored the annual Miss Kellam Pageant, highlight of the year for its members. The purpose of the club this year was to "create, maintain and extend Christianity throughout the home, school, and community."

Throughout the year, the club participated in the Massanetta Leadership Conference and the Model General Assembly. Their money-raising project was a mint sale.

Officers for the year were: Mary Beddingfield, president; Nancy Bates, vice-president; Janet Riggs, secretary; MonaLiza Nunez, treasurer; Debbie Anderson, reporter-historian; and Charlene Ferguson, chaplain.

To develop future leaders in marketing and distribution was the purpose of the Distributive Education Club. Activities for the year included the annual club picnic; a service project for a needy family; an officer training session; the fall rally; the homecoming float; the district, state, national leadership contests; and the employer/employee banquet.

One of the major highlights of the year was a study in marketing projects which concerned trends of consumer habits in grocery shopping. The purpose of that study was to determine why people shop in certain stores, and to provide local merchants with a greater insight as to the type of population they serve.

Officers for the year were: Tim Butler, president; John Gray, vice-president; Ana Wins, secretary; Edith Tiaba, treasurer; Robbie Spencer, reporter-historian; and Gary Newell, chaplain.

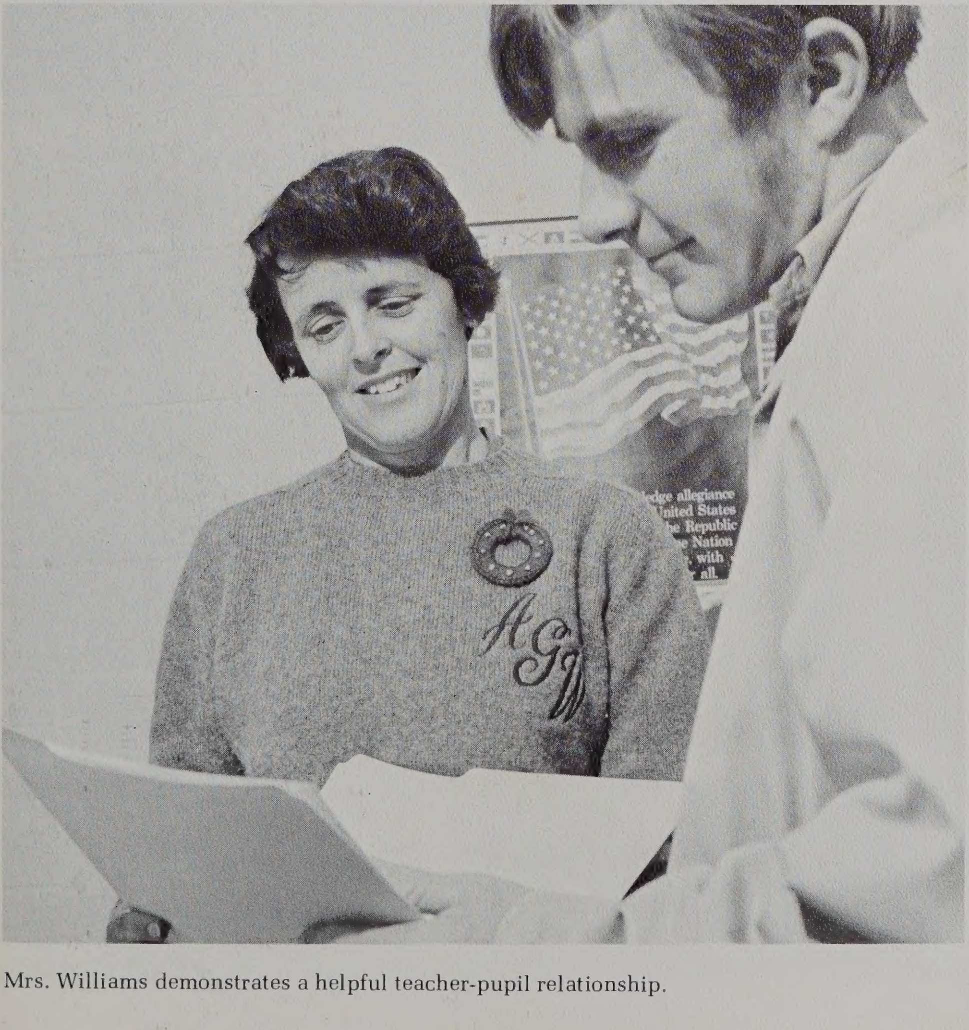
School Observations Provide Insight For FTA Membership



Mrs. Williams demonstrates a helpful teacher-pupil relationship.

Teachers found the willingness of the Future Teachers of America helpful when they were asked, "May I help you with some of your duties as a teacher?"

The purpose of the club was to encourage and to promote interest in the teaching profession, and to give the members an insight into the field by helping teachers and by visiting other schools. Money-raising projects for the year included a stationery sale.

Officers for the year were: Janet Ewing, president; Kathy Benson, vice-president; Donna Holtzmacher, secretary; Cindy Alston, treasurer; and Frances Lang, reporter-historian. These girls were under the guidance of Mrs. Betty Forrell, and Mrs. Anne Williams.

Drama Club Sends Play To State Festival In Charlottesville

Kellam's Drama Club increased the year's entertainment by performing "The Glass Menagerie," the senior play — "A Token of Our Esteem," and the spring play — "Lilly, the Villian's Daughter."

Drama Club members participated in several festivals this year: the Virginia Beach Fine Arts Festival, the Shakespearean Festival, and District and State Competitions. The high point of the year was the superior rating given to the one-act play, "Home Free" in the Eastern District One-Act Play Festivel. "Home Free" went to the State Festival in Charlottesville.

Sponsor of the club as Miss Rhett Pridgen and officers were Tommy Hitt, president; Danny Workman, vice-president; Andrea Newby, secretary; and Mary Craig, treasurer.

"The Twelve Days Of Christmas" Chosen For Christmas Decor

The Kellam Art Club enabled interested students who were talented to learn about types of art and to familiarize themselves with those types.

Money-raising projects were used for the Scholarship Fund and for the Silver Palette Award given each year. The club entered a float in the Homecoming parade and it took third place. Donated to one of the gymnastics teams were silk-screened warm-up suits. Under the theme of "The Twelve Days of Christmas," the cafeteria was decorated for a service project.

Officers for the year were: Julie Kenner, president; Land Tatman, vice-president; Carla Pendleton, secretary; Lois Gray, treasurer; and Martin Amith, reporter-historian. These were under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Levi.

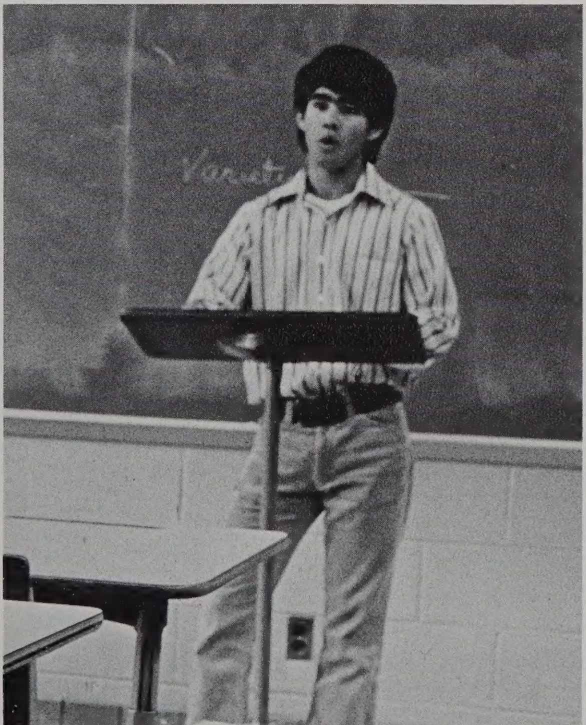
Kellam Debate And Forensics Meet Best Held In Years



Led by Mike Tate, their team-captain, and Miss Mary Arail, sponsor, the Kellam Debate and Forensics Club was one of the best teams from all around the area. The purpose of the club this year was to instruct students in the principles and techniques of debate and to give practical experience in oral communication.

The club met and had debates with other schools, and in April they attended the District Debate Meet sponsored by the Virginia High School League. Throughout the year they worked on the National Debate Proposition and the basic fundamentals of debate.

Monogram Members Promote Squire Week in Winter

The purpose of the Monogram Club was to honor varsity athletes who earned a letter in a sport and to be of aid to the athletic department.

Goals that the club worked so hard to reach were a variety of money-raising projects, aiding the athletic department, and giving full support to the annual freshman-sophomore, junior-senior basketball games.

Tommy Currin served as president for the year with Mr. John Cooke, Physical Education Department chairman and head football coach, as sponsor.

Spearheading Monogram Club affairs were Mike DeIulio, Mike Kuhn, David Marquette, Tommy Currin, Joe Shray, George Irby and Brent Busey.

Spirit Week Climaxes Basketball Season

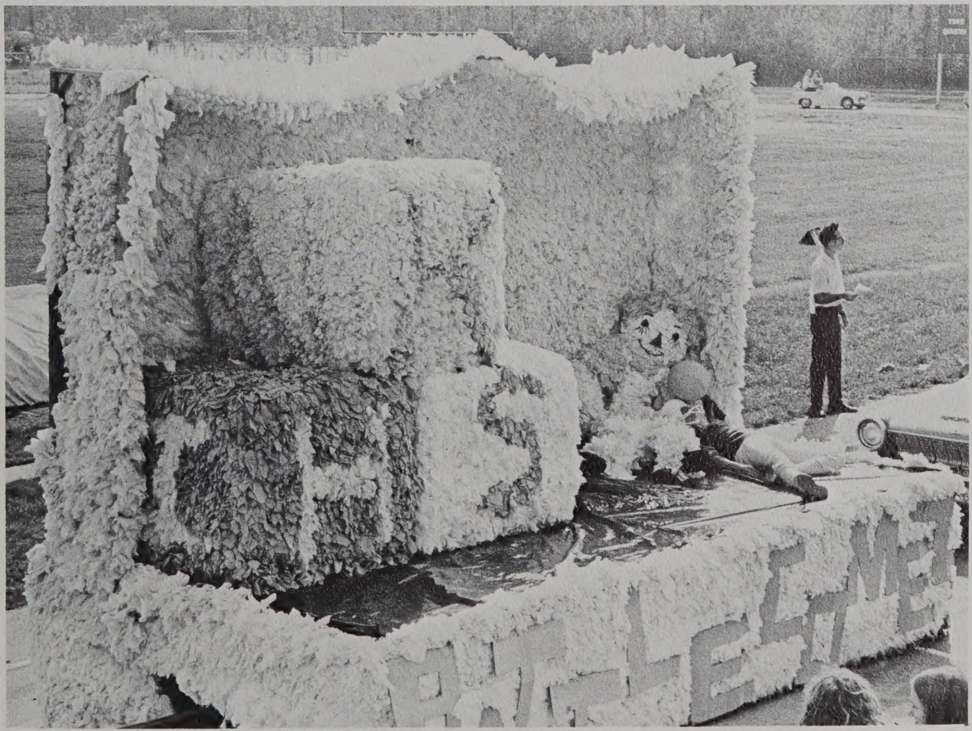
The purpose of the Pep Club was to promote school spirit. With this in mind they set their enthusiasm to work. A committee, headed by Stacey Routt, was formed to make the "Big" signs that the football players ran through at each game. Spirit buttons also were sold. Every member, cheering to the very end — win or lose, sat with the club for at least half of each game.

Homecoming brought a busy week of active club participation. Even though the weather was rainy and cold, they worked hard to once again rank in the homecoming float winning circle. They captured second place with the thought in mind that "in second place we try harder."

Spirit Week, November 29 — December 3, climaxed the basketball season. This week was set aside for promoting spirit for the upcoming basketball season. "Quiet Day," "Black, White and Gold Day," "Daisy Day" and "Spirit Button Day" all proved to be a great success.

Donut sales, a craft table, making and the selling of Snoopy Dogs, and a paper drive were all the money-making projects that were undertaken and successfully executed.

Officers for the year were: Cheryl Connelly, president; Donna Shaver, vice-president; Lynn Floreis, secretary; Debbie Goin, treasurer; Brenda Eastman, reporter-historian; and Stacey Routt, spirit manager.



Pep Club float won second place in the Homecoming competition.

Future Farmers Achieve A Superior Rating — Take Awards

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Nichols, the Future Farmers of America had a very good year. The purpose of the club was to develop agricultural leadership and to familiarize members with country life.

Throughout the year the Kellam Chapter of Future Farmers came up with an overall superior rating in contests. Awards received included a fourth place in the state in forestry judging, and a second place in the state in crop and livestock judging.

Officers for the year were: David Marquette, president; Mike Waterfield, vice-president; David Boggs, treasurer; Jerry Wilson, reporter-historian; and Ricky Craft, secretary.

Mike Davis, Steve Howell, and Tim Munden represent the Future Farmers of America in the Homecoming festivities.

Madrigals Perform Christmas Music At Pembroke Mall

Students enrolled in chorus had an exciting and fulfilling year. The beginning of the year was highlighted by the Concert Chorus which performed Christmas carols at the Military Circle Shopping Mall and the Madrigals which performed Christmas carols at Pembroke Mall.

The climax of the year was the performance of the "Requiem" by Fauré on March 23. Although the group had much difficulty in learning the selection which is a Latin classical mass, they finally did and performed it at school and another time at the Bow Creek Presbyterian Church, Sunday March 26.

Billy Reese, Mike Williams and Rosalyn Knight made All-State Chorus and attended VPI for the weekend of April 21.

A spring concert was performed May 19 by all the Chorus classes. It's music reflected current musical trends.

Officers of the chorus were Billy Reese, president; Michelle Payton, vice-president; Rosalyn Knight and Sadie Barnes, secretaries; and Elsie Humphries and Sharon Evans, treasurers.

The chorus float won third place in the float competition.

Under the direction of Mr. Sperry, the new band director; Yvonne Gephart, drum majorette; and MonaLiza Nunez, head majorette; the Marching Band of Kellam High stepped off for the 1971-72 school year. Their purposes to develop skill in listening discriminately, reading music, and expressing oneself on an instrument; to understand the design of music, its relationship to history, and its place in contemporary society; and to encourage a lifelong interest in musical values and continued musical expression became evident daily.

Activities of the year included numerous halftime shows, several concerts — including the annual Christmas and Spring concerts, and participation in area parades. The year was highlighted by a performance in the Oyster Bowl: Kellam was the only area band to be so honored.

The biggest event this year for the band was their participation in the District IIA Band Festival, held at Princess Anne High School. For the first time ever, they left with an overall superior rating.

Cheerleaders Continue Tradition Of Baking Cakes For Athletes

"Two bits, four bits, six bits a dollar. All for Kellam, stand up and holler."

Varsity cheerleaders, sponsored by Mrs. Ellen Soyars and Miss Marilyn Nagy, were led this year by Jean Shearin, captain and Donna Hutchinson, co-captain. Through the above cheer and many, many more, this group of girls promoted school spirit and enthusiasm at all the football and basketball games.

The cheerleaders spent much of their time encouraging the team by wrapping the goal posts at home games, making wall and door signs, and by decorating the locker room for each game. The girls provided cakes for the football players at each game, and during "Spirit Week," sponsored a big bonfire.

Money-raising projects included a car wash, a donut sale, and the sales of spirit ribbons and pompoms throughout the school year.

JV Cheerleaders Give Sparkle to JV Athletic Scene

Throughout the year the junior varsity cheerleaders attended the junior varsity athletic events in their attempt to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship.

Money-raising projects through-out the year included the selling of mums for Homecoming and the programs at home varsity games.

Wanda Ballentine and Terry Rocheleau served as junior varsity co-captains with Mrs. Betty B. Taylor as their faculty sponsor.

At the spring sports banquet, eight girls received letters, and the three returning girls were awarded stars.

Shirley And Pepper Excell With Drill Team At Area Events

Under the direction of Debby Shirley, captain; Lynn Pepper, co-captain; and Mrs. Alice R. Hilty, sponsor; Kellam's Drill Team performed at school and community functions.

Drill Team members attempted to promote pride, sportsmanship, and leadership among its participants. Some of their activities included halftime festivities at the football games, participation in the Armed Forces Day and Oyster Bowl parades, and representation in the activities of the Azalea Festival.

Prior to Christmas, they sold boxes of Christmas cards which provided a profit of approximately six hundred dollars.

Drill Team co-captains are Lynn Pepper, and Debbie Shirley.

NJROTC Tastes Wind, Salt And Sea — Contemplates Careers

Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps — NJROTC — is now an accredited class open to all sophomores, juniors, and seniors at Kellam. The course carries a credit for each year but far more important are the benefits which a person obtains.

Commander Wheeler and Warrant Officer Forsen, the course instructors have noted that the NJROTC program is one that has been a part of high school curriculums throughout the United States. The course was designed to complement courses taught in the last three years of high school and attempts to propel students toward self-development.

The program is geared toward students who have plans of entering the United States Navy as enlisted men where they will enter with an advanced E-3 pay. It also provides invaluable preparation for those desiring to attend the Naval Academy and to enter NJROTC College programs.

The Roundtable, under the direction of Mrs. Florence Blankenship, was published by Journalism II students. Besides publishing the newspaper, the staff sold ads, wrote stories, gathered subscriptions, and took photographs. These students were aided by the help of experts from Norfolk newspapers. The purpose of the Roundtable was to keep the student body informed of the activities around Kellam. The newspaper was also a means of entertainment, as found in each of the six issues.

This has been the second consecutive year in which the Roundtable has placed first in the Virginia High School League judging.

Checking exact fittings of copy and pictures can be tedious.

Yearbook Takes First Place In S.I.P.A. Competition

Debbie Nelson sorts pictures for placement on layouts.

Georgette Crisp instructs Kathy Mereno in page design.

Presenting a yearbook that will bring back fond memories and accurate information along with excellence in style and design is the seemingly unending job of the Challenger staff.

Long hard hours of work after school and on weekends became the fate of the editor-in-chief, Georgette Crisp, her staff, and sponsor, Miss Anne Frances Allen.

All sections of the Challenger were completed due to joint effort on the part of Fay Ryan, Cathy Mereno, Ronald Simpson, Debbie Johnson, Debbie Nelson, Georgette Crisp, and Miss Allen with the help of a few other persons who assisted in obtaining data.

Mrs. Betty Forrell, business sponsor, with the assistance of Nancy Bates, Steve Wilson, Cheryl Connelly, Kathy Eaton, Gail Heywood, Valerie Jones, Shirley Heywood, and Sarah Malbon promoted Challenger sales and secured advertisements.

The major part of photography was done by McIntosh Studios while some special features photographs were contributed by the Roundtable, the Virginia Beach Sun, and several student photographers. Harry Martin, art student, contributed most of the art work.
